

FIG. 1

□
□ □ ×

QUESTION: Regarding the specification of a nonprovisional patent application, which of the following practices is in accordance with proper USPTO practice and procedure?

ANSWER CHOICES:

- ☐ (A) The specification may include graphical illustrations or flowcharts.
- ☒ (B) The specification may include tables and chemical formulas.
- ☐ (C) The specification may include hyperlinks or other forms of browser-executable code embedded in the text.
- ☐ (D) The specification must begin with one or more claims.
- ☐ (E) The specification may include a reservation for a future application of subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the application.

Submit response, and I am:

SURE

UNSURE

FIG. 2

20201010-010702

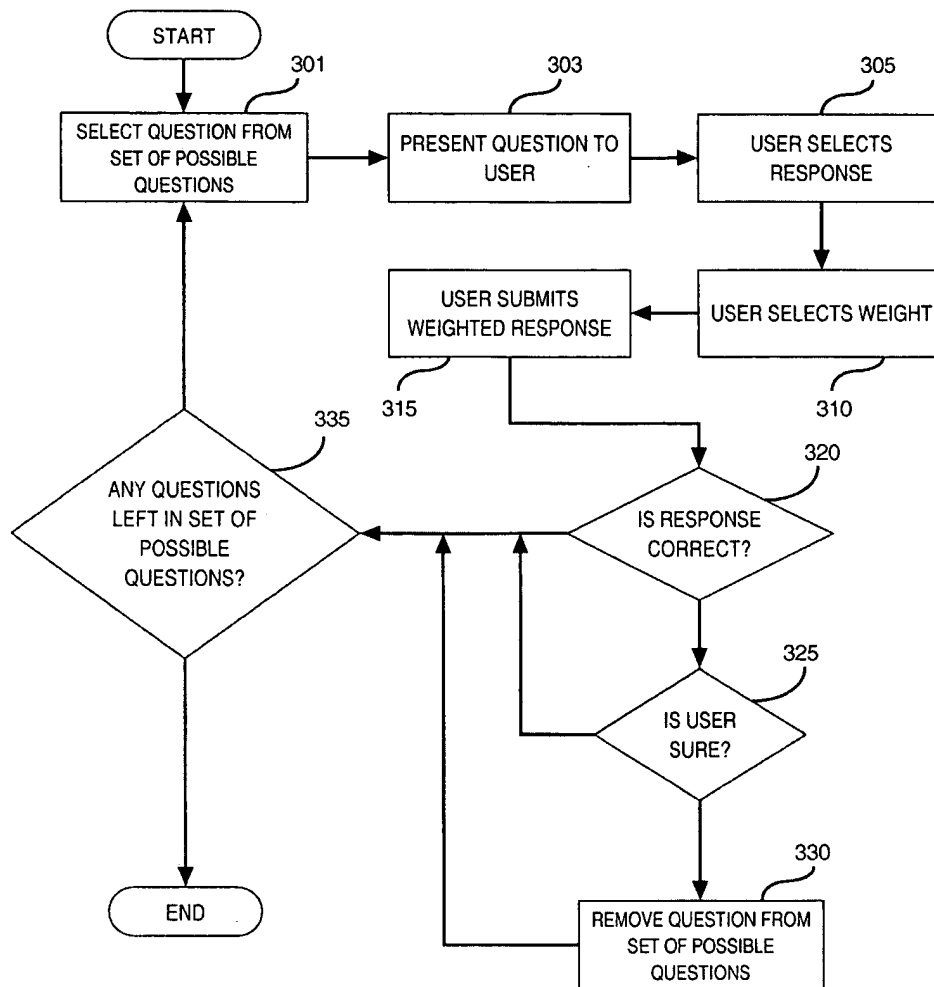

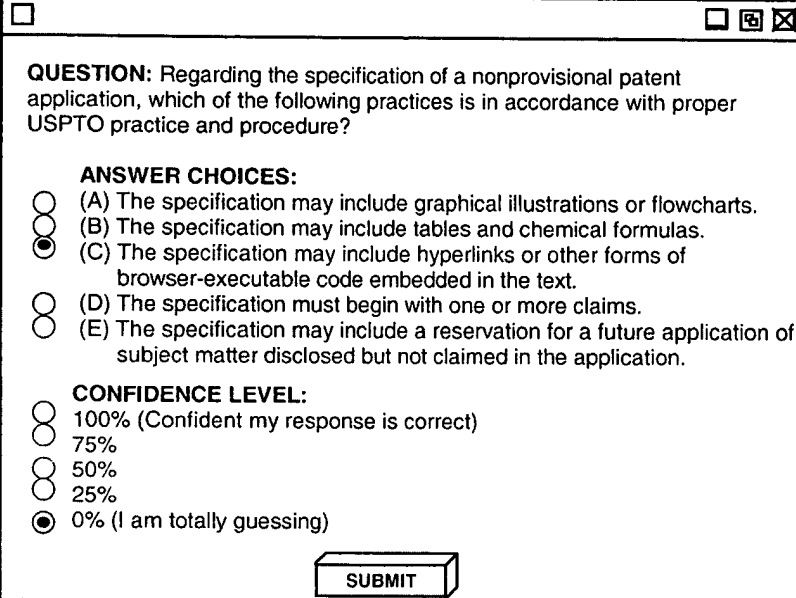

FIG. 3

QUESTION: Regarding the specification of a nonprovisional patent application, which of the following practices is in accordance with proper USPTO practice and procedure?

ANSWER CHOICES:

- ☐ (A) The specification may include graphical illustrations or flowcharts.
- ☐ (B) The specification may include tables and chemical formulas.
- ☒ (C) The specification may include hyperlinks or other forms of browser-executable code embedded in the text.
- ☐ (D) The specification must begin with one or more claims.
- ☐ (E) The specification may include a reservation for a future application of subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the application.

CONFIDENCE LEVEL:

- ☐ 100% (Confident my response is correct)
- ☐ 75%
- ☐ 50%
- ☐ 25%
- ☒ 0% (I am totally guessing)

SUBMIT

FIG. 4